POWERFUL & AFFORDABLE

Digital - Network Video Recorder

ICE Monitor's Digital Surveillance or Network Video Recorder (NVR) is the perfect combination of your POSitouch system and Digital Video Recording technology. An integrated NVR eliminates antiquated VHS tape systems without the additional expense of a stand-alone network video recording system. The NVR server provides high-performance digital surveillance features that are linked directly to your POSitouch system and at an affordable price. Cameras can be ceiling, wall or exterior mounted and have a preset zoom and focus that provides sharp, clear video clips.

The modular design of the NVR server allows anywhere from one to thirty two simultaneous video feeds to be written directly to disk while providing live access to streaming video from any web-browser or directly viewed from the in-store server. The browser based user interface allows direct secure access to multi-channel video from anywhere with web-access, this can include other store locations, office or home computers.

Direct Access to Digital Video Clips

ICE Monitor's Digital Surveillance will not only store countless hours of video, it also provides the tools necessary to catalog and index each video segment and links each directly back to the POSitouch security journal. For example, if you want to see who cancelled a specific order at an exact date and time, you can search the System Transaction Log for that date and time and simply click the video icon and you will be quickly presented with that video clip viewed through the ICE Monitor program.

The total integration of the POSitouch Security Journal also allows each POSitouch work station to be logically linked to its closest camera so all video clips for a specific day / time segment at a particular POSitouch work station can be quickly and easily accessed as well.
